To Get Things Started

NO SCHOOL WITHOUT PUPILS ENROL AT ONCE

The Department of Education is again drawing the attention of all schools to the importance of commencing evening classes for adults. These chargeable must not exceed $2.00 per month, and the term shall not be for less than two months, at any time between October 1st and May 1st following. Those attending day classes will not be eligible for evening classes.

The Department will pay a grant of fifty per cent towards defraying the salary of the teacher of evening classes.

It may be remembered that the Chauvin School District, seconded by publicity in this journal, endeavored to create an interest in the formation of Adult Evening Classes last year; but there was practically no response. The board and the teachers were willing to carry on the work; and we are under the impression that the same facilities will be offered this fall.

This would not become an additional charge on the local taxes, and persons desirous of taking up such classes may be assured that the schools and equipment are ready to hand; and the services of the trustees and teachers will be cheerfully granted for the asking.

Chauvin Curlers Discussing Big Plans For Season

Curlers of Chauvin began their 1921-1922 season last Thursday evening's meeting in the curling room, adjoining the rink. There was a fairly representative gathering present in response to the call of G. W. Allan.

Election of officers fully occupied the early part of the meeting, the following officers being appointed: President: C. C. McKeechie; Vice-pres: A. E. Keith; Secretary: H. N. Freeman; Committee: J. A. Code, G. W. Allan, W. Cubitt, C. G. Forryan, L. E. Roy.

It was decided to set $10 as being the fee for this season. A lengthy discussion followed in which the matter of a new site, and a double sheet of ice with a skating rink adjoining received consideration and it was decided to put these matters in the hands of a committee who were to prepare a report on the proposition. Messrs C. C. McKeechie, J. Guthrie and G. W. Allan being appointed to act as a committee for that purpose.

Save your eyes. See M. M. Mecklenburg the Optometrist (sight measurer) who has had 30 years experience, 18 years in Alberta. Dr. Mecklenburg will be at his office at Lloydminster Monday October 3rd; and at Wainwright, Saturday, October 8th; Provost October 1st.

Archbishop O'Leary Pays Pastoral Visit: Confirms Thirty

Archbishop O'Leary's pastoral visit to Chauvin on Wednesday, September 21st, proved a red-letter day to the Roman Catholics of the district. His Grace being a handsome strong virile man in the prime of life, full of personal magnetism, and by his power of oratory coupled with his devotion to the cause he serves is able to bring home his message right to the hearts of his hearers.

A full congregation was ready assembled awaiting his solemn entry into the Church of the Sacred Heart, and his examination of the tabernacle. High Mass followed, after which some thirty boys and girls received their confirmation at the hand of His Grace.

The archbishop, in his sermon, which followed, speaking in both the French and English languages, dealt with the duties of children towards their parents, the duties of parents towards their children, and with the duty of love in daily life shown by treating our neighbours as we would ourselves be treated, eliminating narrow prejudice, selfishness and bigotry.

Service for the dead of the parish, and also apostolic blessing with plenary indulgence followed the sermon. The necessities of his itinerary debarred the archbishop from making a lengthy stay in the parish. He was the guest of Rev Father Huet, in the presbytery, and whilst there he met a number of the parishoners and others.

The archbishop was escorted from Lloydminster to Chauvin by Messrs L. E. Roy and his father, J. Coulombe, J. MacKenzie, A. Godin and J. E. Collette. The first three named, together with Mrs Coulombe and Rev. Father Huet also escorted the archbishop to Heath and Wainwright at both of which places His Grace conducted special services. A banquet was served at Wainwright and the guests taken for a trip through the Buffalo Park.

At the confirmation service held at the Sacred Heart church by Archbishop, Leary, September, 21st, the following children were confirmed:

BOYS—Leo Cyr; Raymond St. Pierre; Henri Nachtergaele; Robert Code; Roland Rouillard; Edmond Belanger; Etienne Belanger; Henri Paul Simard; Clement Simard; Gerald Belanger; Romeo Belanger; Robert St. Jean; Rene Faucher; Albert St. Pierre; Rogers St. Pierre.

GIRLS—Lucienne Nachtergaele; Estelle O'Brien; Lauree Cyr; Rosa Rouillard; Albertine Courchesne; Simard; Leontine Lambert; Marie Gragel; Polier; Rose Veilleux; Lucienne St. Jean; Albertina Faucher; Alvine Cyr; Eva Woodley.

Rebekah Anniversary Service: October 2

On Sunday evening next October 2 the Chauvin Rebekahs will celebrate the 78th anniversary of the institution of the order. Special music is being arranged and a special sermon will be preached by Rev. Millar. A hearty invitation is extended to all Oddfellows and friends to join in this service.

OUR NEW SERIAL HOW CANADA IS GOVERNED

ADMISSION OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

British Columbia, which took no part in the convention, came into the confederation in 1871.

For many years the mainland was separate from Vancouver Island. That island was held in 1843 by the fur-trading corporation, known as the Hudson's Bay Company, and made a crown colony in 1849. A crown colony has no representative institutions and the whole power rests in a governor and appointed officials. The real authority continued in the hands of the Hudson's Bay Company for some years later.

In 1856 an assembly was established with seven members, despite the very small population of the island. The island was united with British Columbia in 1866 and the latter name given to the united colonies.

The mainland, known previously to 1856 as New Caledonia and British Columbia, had long been a domain of the Hudson's Bay Company, and it was not until 1858 that it became a crown colony. In 1871 a legislative council was first created in the colony and was partly appointed by the governor, and partly elected by the people.

By the act of 1866 uniting the island land of Vancouver to the government of British Columbia, the authority of the executive government and legislature of the latter colony was extended over both colonies.

Until 1871, when the province of British Columbia entered the federal union of Canada, it was governed by a lieutenant-governor, appointed by the sovereign, and a legislative council composed of heads of public departments and several elected members. Responsible government was not introduced into the province until 1871.

ACQUISITION OF THE NORTHWEST AND FORMATION OF MANITOBA

Previous to the union of 1867 the vast country known as Ruperts Land and the Northwest Territories belonged to and was under the control of the Hudson's Bay Company, or to give the company its full name, "The Governor and Company of Adventurers trading into Hudson Bay," which held exclusive trading rights given it by Charles II. His cousin the famous Prince Rupert being the first governor of the company. It was not until 1869 that the rights of the company were purchased and the region transferred to the government of the Dominion of Canada.

In 1870 a new province was formed under the name of Manitoba and invested with all the powers of self-government possessed by the older provinces.

Subsequently the Northwest Territories were given a government consisting of a Lieutenant-Governor and an appointed council, and afterwards of an elected house in substitution for the appointed council. To a limited extent responsible government had been developed in the local government when in 1905 the two new provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta

Chauvin School Fair Proves Big Success Splendid Exhibits

Pupils, teachers, and a who had any part in the work of organizing the Chauvin and District School Fair are to be congratulated upon the big success they have attained.

The schools participating in this venture were Airlie, Edginglassie, Killamey, New Ribstone, Northern Crown, Prosperity, St Albans, Chauvin Public School and Chauvin High Schools.

The buildings and grounds of the Chauvin Agricultural Society were at the disposal of the Schools Fair Association, and were not a little help to those responsible for laying out the exhibits for the judges inspection and for public view.

The exhibition hall was filled with the many exhibits of school and art work, cooking domestic, sewing, etc., whilst the garden was utilized for the display of grass and field produce.

The judges found plenty of work awaiting them on their arrival, and they were at their posts with both high grade of the exhibits and the way it was laid out for their inspection.

The judges being: Mr. J. J. McLoughlin, professor of English, and mathematics; Mr. J. MacKenzie, B.Sc., professor of farm mechanics; Mr. J. W. Howell, assistant assessor; Mr. Puller, school inspector and Miss A. P. Scott, professor of home economics; all of the Vermilion School of Agriculture (excepting Mr. Fuller).

The judges in making their comments to the editor gave it as their opinion that the Chauvin exhibition was above the average, and especially considering it was their first venture in conducting a school fair. They remarked upon the honesty shown by the youthful exhibitors for it was apparent that they had used the seed provided and abided by the rules of the fairs association. Amongst the judges was to be found many exhibits of sterling quality, and the judge in illustrating his point drew our particular attention to two pieces of color work performed by Eunice Burke, of the Northern Crown school as showing considerable artistic quality and promise for the future.

In commenting upon the vegetables, the judge remarked that apparently some of the children regarded bigness as the deciding factor for prize winning and he requested us to draw to the attention of the exhibitors that potatoes of medium size and good texture were desirable rather than larger ones of scabby nature and poor texture. The pork red beet of symmetrical shape and good texture was the one to win the approval of the judge. Carrots must be of good shape and texture and free from side roots. The side roots were caused by watering lightly and too frequently; it being preferable to give a good soaking once a week rather than a light daily sprinkling. Much the same may also be turned up; but as regards mangels, these being a fodder crop, size counted in their respect. The judges regretted the light entries in the live stock classes and expressed the hope for a larger display next year.

Miss A. P. Scott stated that the exhibitors that she had to judge were of unusually high grade throughout, and mentioned the cooking and sewing in particular as being well worth

Monthly Dances Will Be Held By Chauvin G.W.V.A.

The regular meeting of the Chauvin G. W. V. A. was held on Saturday September 24th, with a fair attendance of members. Comrade Cubitt presided. The accounts as presented were ordered paid. The branch decided to forward a proxy to the Provincial Command for the coming Dominion Convention at Port Arthur, owing to the fact that Comrade MacKenzie was unable to make the trip.

It was also decided to hold a series of dances in the Oddfellows Hall—October 21st, November 11th (Masquerade) and December 9th.

Improvements Made At Butze Siding

Considerable improvements have been carried out at the Butze siding. The railway company has been grading and making improvements to the loading platform.

For the greater convenience of intending travellers, the company has taken the weeds from the side of the track and have placed a flag and a lantern at the proper place. We may note that recently the Chauvin Chronicle has been the subject of things at this flag station to the detriment of officers, and that they not only thanked us for our communication, but they lost no time in remedying the matter.

Local Notes Of Interest

There are reports of a change in the railway time table to become effective at the commencement of October. As is usual there are no details available either to the station agent or to the press.

Mr Ellis has invested in a Ford car, which he brought back from Edmonton.

Quite a number of hunting parties have gone out from town within the past week and returned with ducks and geese in fair number.

Born: to Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Langille, a son September 19th, at the home of Mrs. J. C. McCleod, Wainwright.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Roy Thursday September 22nd a daughter.

Mrs. L. Bowser, has returned to Chauvin on a brief visit to Mr. and Mrs. A. Herbert.

Miss Sturdivant returned to Edmonton Thursday, after a brief visit home at Butze.

Mrs. Milne, and Miss L. Milne, of Edgerton were visitors to Mr. and Mrs. Saul, Sunday.

At this season of the year boils and eruptions of the skin are more prevalent than at any other. The blood and safeguard the system against such maladies. We not only speak from experience of others but from our own personal experiment. Three bottles will do the trick. Price $1.25 per bottle.

HOW CANADA IS GOVERNED

were carved out of the Territories.

In 1881 the Province of Manitoba was enlarged, and in 1912 large portions of the Territories were added to the provinces of Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba.

THREE LEADING PRINCIPLES OF FEDERAL UNION

I have given a brief historical sketch of the constitutional development of the countries that compose the federal union of Canada, and I shall now proceed to direct attention to the framework of the government established by that union.

British North America Act of 1867, a statute of the parliament of Great Britain, to which as the supreme legislative authority of the empire the provinces of Canada had to apply to be federally united.

In the addresses to the queen containing the resolutions of the Quebec conference of 1864, the legislatures of the provinces stated that a federation of the British North American provinces "the system of government best adapted under existing circumstances to protect the diversified interests of the several provinces, and secure harmony and permanency in the working of the union, would be a general government charged with matters of common interest to the whole country, and local governments for each of the Canadas, and for the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, charged with the control of local matters in their respective sections.

In the third paragraph the resolutions declare that "in framing a constitution for the general government, the conference with a view to the perpetuation of our connection with the mother country, and the promotion of the best interests of the people of these provinces, desire to follow the model of the British constitution so far as our circumstances permit."

In the fourth paragraph it states that "The executive authority or government shall be vested in the sovereign of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and be administered according to the well-understood principle of the British constitution, by a sovereign personally, or by its representative of the sovereign duly authorized."

In these three paragraphs we see clearly expressed the leading principles which our system of government rests.

A federation with a central government exercising general powers over all the members of the union, and a number of local governments having the control and management of local matters naturally and conveniently belonging to them, while each government is administered in accordance with the British system of parliamentary institutions.

These are the leading principles which were made law by the British North America Act of 1867, and which I propose to explain in the course of the following pages.

HOW CANADA IS GOVERNED

As the most intelligible mode of explaining the nature of the somewhat complicated constitution of the Dominion, I shall divide the whole subject—How Canada is Governed—into order the functions and responsibilities that belong to the following authorities, governing the Dominion as a dependency of England, and as a federation of provinces.

1. The Imperial Government, exercising executive legislative and judicial supremacy over the dependency through a sovereign acting by and with the advice of a responsible council, a judicial committee of the privy council and a parliament.

2. The Dominion Government, whose executive, legislative and judicial powers as the central authority of the federation as exercised through a governor-general appointed by the crown—"Crown" means reigning sovereign,—acting by and with the advice of a responsible council, a parliament, and the courts.

3. The Provincial Governments, judicial jurisdiction within their constitutional limits through a lieutenant-governor, appointed by the governor-general in council, a responsible executive council, a legislative, and the courts.

In the course of these chapters I shall explain the nature of the relations between the Imperial and Dominion governments, and between the Dominion and Provincial governments.

I shall also give, as a matter of convenience, a special place to the government of the territories though it falls, strictly speaking, under the second division, and to the government of municipalities and schools, though it belongs to the third division.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

1778-1849. Period of explorer and fur trader.

1858. Lease of mainland, then called New Caledonia, to Hudson Bay Company, for twenty-one years.

1849. Grant of Vancouver Island to Hudson Bay Company; James Douglas, a Hudson Bay Company Factor, to Lieutenant-Governor with an appointed Council. The Council were all employees or dependants of the company.

1850. First Legislative Assembly for Vancouver Island consisting of seven members.

1858. Mainland created a Crown Colony as New Caledonia. Power was given to govern it by a Governor, and an appointed Council, or a Governor, an appointed Council and an elected Assembly, the Act to remain in force until 1862, subsequently extended to 1863.

1863. Governor and Council of fifteen appointed by the Sovereign, or by the Governor with the approval of the Sovereign, the members to hold office during pleasure.

1866. Vancouver Island and mainland united as one colony under the name of British Columbia, the jurisdiction of the Governor and Legislative Council being extended to Vancouver, and the number of members of the members of the Council being increased to twenty-three, to give the necessary representation to Vancouver Island.

1867. Crown resumes possession of Vancouver Island, and grant to the Hudson Bay Company cancelled.

1870. The Government to consist of a Governor, a Legislative Council, consisting of fifteen members, nine elected and six appointed by the governor, subject to the approval of the Sovereign, the appointed members to hold office during pleasure.

1871 This Government at once provided a new constitution consisting of a Governor, an Executive Council appointed by the Governor and responsible to the Assembly, and an elective House of Assembly.

1871. Confederation, with a constitution similar to the other provinces of Canada.

MANITOBA

1670-1869. Hudson Bay Company Rule and the Fur-traders.

1869. Purchase of the rights of the Company by Canada.

1869-1870. Attempt to rule country by a Lieutenant-Governor and Council, but the Red River Rebellion prevented its establishment.

1870. Province of Manitoba created with a Lieutenant-Governor, an Executive Council, and a Legislative Council appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor, on the advice of the Executive Council, and an elected Legislative Assembly, with responsible government the same as in the other provinces of Canada, and with representation in the Senate and House of Commons of Canada.

1876. Legislative Council abolished.

1881. Boundaries of Province enlarged.

1912. Boundaries of Province enlarged.

SASKATCHEWAN AND ALBERTA

1906. The Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta created. Governed by a Lieutenant-Governor, an Executive Council, responsible to the House of Assembly, an elected Legislative Assembly with the same powers as in the other provinces of Canada, and with representation in the Senate and House of Commons of Canada.

NORTHWEST TERRITORIES

1869. Lieutenant-Governor and Council appointed by the Governor-

General, not exceeding fifteen, and not less than seven members, with such powers as the Governor in Council may give them.

The Governor General in Council to have power to make laws for the government of the Territories.

1871. Lieutenant-Governor and a Council of not less than seven members and not more than thirteen members appointed by the Governor-General. (Eleven were so appointed.)

1873. Council increased to a number not exceeding twenty-one.

1875. Council reduced to five, or (Continued on page seven)

Northern Ireland Protests Against Canadian Cattle

Opposition to the admission of Canadian store cattle which hitherto has been voiced chiefly in England is now manifested in Northern Ireland. When the Ulster senate yesterday discussed the question of opening ports to Canadian cattle, Colonel Sharman Crawford urged the cabinet the press and the imperial government not to accept the royal commission recommendations as they would have an especially disastrous effect upon Irish agricultural industry. Importation of cattle, he said, would affect very little the retail price of cattle had declined forty per cent., nothing like a corresponding reduction had been made in retail prices.

SECOND WOMAN IS ELECTED TO SEAT IN BRITISH HOUSE

Mrs. Margaret Wintringham, Liberal, has been elected to the house of commons for the Leath division of Lancashire in succession to her late husband, Tom Wintringham, she will be the second woman to take a seat in the commons, Lady Astor having been the first.

Two hundred and seventy-five school fairs are being held in Saskatchewan this year.

No Plebescite On Liquor Question Is Contemplated

No plebiscite for government control of the dispensation of liquor is anticipated this winter, according to Hon. J. E. Brownlee attorney-general. In fact no representation along that line have been made to the new government.

It is probable that some new legislation for the enforcement of the act will be brought down at the next session however, and the attorney-general is going into the whole matter, familiarizing himself with the present law, and also getting information as to the powers of the province in enacting prohibitory legislation.

Fire Prevention Week In Alberta October 9 to 16

Fire prevention week has been arranged for Alberta for October 9 to 16, and arrangements are being pushed forward by the officials of the insurance branch to make this a telling appeal for conservation.

The week will open by an appeal from the pulpits of the different churches for a conservation of our woods and homes, by more care in the building or rather the smothering of fires. Advertisements will be placed in the street cars, all towns and villages will be placarded, and an appeal will be made to the school children of the province.

Decreased Imports Of Agricultural Products: August

The decrease in the value of agricultural products imported into Canada last month, as compared with the value of these imported in August, 1920, was $7,424,324. The decrease in the value of agricultural products exported from Canada last month compared with the value of those exported in August, 1920, was $10,067,667. Canada imported last month agricultural products to the value of $4,962,280 in excess of her agricultural exports. These figures indicate the measure of protection enjoyed by the basic industry of the country under the tariff arrangements of the present Government in Ottawa.

Chauvin Schools Fair Proves Big Success Splendid Exhibits

Fair day was cool, but dry, and there was, as a result, a very large turnout of children, nine schools being represented. The buildings of the Agricultural Society were taxed to their utmost. The art exhibit was truly splendid and was justly commended by the Judge and Inspector Fuller. The sewing and cooking departments were also filled to overflowing and the covetous glances cast in the direction of the candles attested the grading given by the visitors.

The insect, plant and seed collections were good but they were all eclipsed by the exhibition of vegetables.

If sunflowers make good ensilage, certainly Chauvin district need never lack for feed, considering some of the giants exhibited.

A good showing of chickens was made but the other live stock was very light.

A grand parade was organized and commended to march with great éclat at 1 p.m. The leading float, Edinglassie, was very prettily decorated, and won first prize. The rear float, Chauvin, was very much in evidence with Miss Canada as a pedestal. The parade lead to the fair grounds where many interesting events were pulled off.

The tug-of-war was specially exciting.

The closing sports were a series of basketball games in which Chauvin High beat Edinglassie 8-6, and Chauvin Town beat Chauvin High by the same score.

Some of the rural schools are to be congratulated on the number of promising young athletes that they have.

During the course of the afternoon Messrs. Loughlin and Fuller held a discussion with the teachers as to a bettering the fair next year. They complimented the school boards and teachers for the very excellent showing and recommended these points to observe next year:—

Seed grain is to be hand cleaned. A sheet of grain should be cut by hand, cured, and be of at least 3 in. in diameter below band.

Vegetables should only be of medium size, not too large, and should be uniform and not stringy, nor have side roots.

More money was to be provided. They informed those present that most municipalities gave a very substantial grant towards the work.

All cooking and sewing should conform to specifications. Some really high class entries were made but they had to be denied prizes on various counts.

The diploma will be awarded on points.

If any mistakes are made in prizes awarded, will the teachers concerned please bring them to the notice of the secretary that they may be corrected.

Ribstone Man

Received Shot

Through Leg

John Young, of Ribstone, was shot and seriously injured Monday afternoon while riding in a grain wagon. He was taken to the Royal Alexander hospital, Edmonton, where it was found that he could not be operated upon owing to loss of blood, an generally weakened condition. He is the eighteen year old son of James Young.

It appears that the injured man had observed his shot gun slipping out of the wagon and in attempt out of the wagon, and in attempting to save it engaged the hammer in such a manner as to cause a discharge of shell contained in the barrel. The shot entered the left leg, taking away flesh and a portion of the bone.

Following the accident the wounded man was driven for several miles in a democrat by his brother, to Edgerton station, where they boarded the train for Edmonton, being met by Andrews' Bros ambulance.

Fram G. C. A.

The last meeting of the Fram G.C.A. had to be postponed at the last minute owing to everyone being so busy, but it is hoped that the business will be taken in hand at the next meeting to be held on Saturday October 1st in the school. The announcement of Premier Meighen that a general election will be held shortly should mean that every member will be in his and her place to hear the latest news of the farmers' intentions in this matter.

Two years imprisonment was inflicted upon Guy O. Gono, a farmer of Anselmo, Sask. for unlawfully shooting a steer.

Alberta Lists

Being Prepared For Elections

Copies Are Being Made For Use
In The Coming Federal Contest

By an arrangement between the Dominion and the provincial government, copies of lists of electors at the different polls in Alberta are now being made and will be furnished in time to be used at the forthcoming Dominion elections. The Dominion act calls for the use of the provincial lists where such are printed, but in Alberta and Saskatchewan these lists are not printed, so it is necessary to enumerate. Getting copies of these lists will save time and expense of enumeration, and a staff of stenographers is now at work, under the direction of John D. Hunt, in getting out the lists for all available polls.

Press Opinions

Discussing the chaos between Dr. Michael Clark and H. W. Wood, the Lethbridge Herald says:

"Just at present the sentiment of group government is running strongly among Alberta farmers, but it cannot but be that they will abandon it when they discover that it is bound to react on themselves. It is no venture to say that they will soon see the need to co-operate with other classes in order to obtain many of the measures they advocate. They cannot as a class be able to control affairs in Canada. In the next election the National Progressive party is bound to have many supporters, but in accordance with Mr. Wood's group theory, only those from Alberta will be sent to the House of Commons to represent a class. In other provinces the National Progressive party is a disunited political organization, wide open to everybody to join, and undoubtedly a man of Dr. Clark's great ability and long years of service to tariff reform would be nominated in Saskatchewan as his merits and without any consideration of as to whether he was a farmer or not. It must be remembered that Michael Clark has been blazing the path of tariff freedom in this province for many years. He was doing it before the United Farmers became a political force and he was doing it in Ontario, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba within the past few months when he campaigned with Mr. Crean.

"Thoughtful men, who believe in the principles of the Progressive Party, cannot but see that Dr. Clark is right, and a few years, and maybe a few months, will prove to those to-day enamored of the group government, talk that he took a sensible course when he refused to consider a nomination from a class movement.

"The defection of men of the stamp of Dr. Clark from the Alberta group of farmers, with their policy of the closed door as opposed to the open door of men who are aligned in thought with the Leader of the National Progressive Party in the Dominion and his coadjutor, Premier Drury of Ontario, must cause some hard thinking even among the farmers themselves. To sacrifice a man of his forceful ability on the altar of a theory not held by the farmers in common but by a particular wing of the Farmer's Party, cannot but appear a policy of political suicide as it affects the farmers' cause as a whole.

Just Fancies

A few minutes work by each citizen in clearing the weeds from the edge of the sidewalks would make quite a difference in the look of the town.

May we suggest that the village constable be instructed to make a tour of inspection and see that the by-laws regarding chimneys be fully enforced.

Family Reunion

For the first time in sixteen years the Gilbertson family were reunited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gilbertson on Sunday the 11th. The day was pleasantly spent in playing and singing. Mrs. R. S. Knutson entertained with piano solos. Bill Gilbertson with violin solos and Ralph Knutson and Ralph Parker with vocal solos, while Mrs. F. G. Aylesworth kept every one in good humour with her quaint and witty sayings. After a joy good time all were invited to the dining room where they did justice to a well served dinner. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gilbertson; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gilbertson and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Powers and children. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Knutson, Mr. and Mrs. C. Gilbertson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Parker of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Aylesworth of Hife, and Mr. W. J. Lind, of Seattle. Among the guests were: Miss Melissa Johnson, Mr. Bill Knutson and Mr. Lou Knutson.

The Ontario attorney-general, Hon. W. E. Ramey, was burned in effigy in front of the grand stand at Oakville, Ont., Saturday evening September 19th to show displeasure on account of his enterprise in closing up games of chance at the fair. Inspector Greer was here Friday and closed up two booths which were running the "put and take" game.

Greenfield Hopes To Look Back

When He Steps Out

Premier Greenfield and ex-premier Stewart for the first time since the eventful 18th of July, appeared on the same public platform at the laying of the corner stone of the new municipal hospital at Viking on Wednesday afternoon. The incident served as the occasion for an appreciative reference by the new premier to his predecessor.

"When the time comes for me to turn over the reins of office to someone else," said Mr. Greenfield, "I sooner or later it must come, I only hope that I shall be able to look back upon as creditable a record and that I shall have been able to command as high respect throughout the province as has the Hon. Charles Stewart."

Municipal hospitals are being built at Viking and Provost. Premier Greenfield laid the foundation stone for the Viking municipal hospital last week.

Eleven Hundred Killed: German Chemical Works

Injured Estimated At Four Thousand
Rescuers Work With Gas Masks
Vast Creak Of Tonnage Filling
With Water

Desolation and ruins alone remain of what was once the flourishing town of Oppau. The town had 6,500 residents, of which a majority of the men, engaged in the chemical works, were killed or wounded. Soldiers in French uniform are clearing away the wreckage, picking up the dead and injured as after a big battle.

Eleven hundred dead and 4,000 injured is the estimate of the disaster yesterday. Thirty-six hours after the explosion, from the gaping, funnel-like hole where the Badische works formerly stood, there are still to be heard moaning cries of the wounded while the soldiers search for possible survivors. Twenty-five hundred of the injured are reported to have passed through the hospitals of the surrounding cities.

The 32nd army corps of the French army is in complete charge of the area, and every available French medical officer has arrived here this morning to co-operate with the German physicians and surgeons. The German officials thanked General De Goutte for the prompt manner in which the French army came to the assistance of the victims.

The French high commission on the Rhine, Mr. Lirard, and his entire staff took charge of the relief work. The members of his staff were sent to all the surrounding towns to enlist the mayors and people in the relief plan, in which the labor unions are uniting. Several of the funds have already assumed large proportions. The experts who are inquiring in-governments. The Lieutenant-Governor, as soon as any district not exceeding one thousand square miles had a population of one thousand adults exclusive of aliens and unfranchised Indians, could erect it into an electoral district which would thenceforth be entitled to elect a member of the council, and when the elected members amounted to twenty-one the appointed Council was to cease and the elected members were to become a Legislative Assembly.

From 1875 the powers of local government were increased from time to time, approximating by degrees the powers possessed by the provincial governments of Canada.

1886. Given a representation of four members in the House of Commons, increased in 1903 to ten, but this increase never came into force, as in the meantime the major portion of the populated part of the Territories was erected into the two new Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta. In 1912 another large portion was divided up between the Provinces of Quebec, Ontario, and Manitoba.

1887. Given two Senators, increased in 1902 from three to four.

1888. Lieutenant-Governor, an Advisory Council of four members of the House of Assembly elected by the Lieutenant-Governor to deal with matters of Finance, the Lieutenant-Governor having a vote in such which number the Stipendiary Magistrates (of whom there were three) were to be members 'ex officio'. In 1877 this was increased to six members. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council was given certain of the powers possessed by the provincial Council, and also a casting vote in case of a tie and an elected House of Assembly with three legal experts appointed by the Governor-General but who were without a vote. The legal experts selected were Judges of the Supreme Court of the Northwest Territories. In 1891 the legal experts were abolished, and the powers of the Legislative Assembly were specified, being most of those possessed by the Provincial Legislatures.

1894. The advisory committee given the name of Executive Committee, and to be appointed in future by the Legislative Assembly.

1905. A large portion of the Territories divided up into the two new Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta.

MENTION OUR ADVERTISEMENTS

The remaining portion of the Territories excepting Keewatin and the Yukon Territory to be governed by a commissioner who may be assisted by a Council not to exceed four in number.

1912. A large portion of the remainder of the Territories including Ungava and Keewatin given to the Provinces of Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba.

KEEWATIN

1876. Governed by a Lieutenant-Governor (the Lieutenant-Governor-tenant-Governor). The Governor-tenant in Council authorized to appoint a Council of not less than five or more than ten members, and also, within certain limits, to make laws for the Territory.

1905. Re-annexed to the Northwest Territories.

SECOND PART

CHAPTER I

THE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT EXECUTIVE POWER

As the system of parliamentary government which Canada possesses is derived from that of England, it is important that we should clearly understand the principles on which that government rests. For the purposes of this book it is only necessary to refer briefly to the following supreme authorities of the empire:—

The Sovereign

The Privy Council

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council

Parliament

THE SOVEREIGN

In accordance with the constitutional usages and rules which have grown up in the course of centuries, the reigning sovereign of England, at present a king, performs all executive acts through his privy council, administers justice by his courts, and makes laws for the empire in his great legislature or parliament.

The crown is hereditary by English law. A statute passed during the reign of William and Mary, and called the Act of Settlement, settled the succession to the throne, vested by James II. on the heirs of the Princess Sophia of Hanover, the granddaughter of James II. His Majesty the King is a lineal descendant of this princess.

The titles of his majesty at present are as follows:—
"George V., by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India."

On the death of the sovereign the crown descends to a male heir, and failing a male heir to a female heir. The probable successor to the throne at the present time—the 'heir apparent' as he is legally called—is the Prince of Wales.

Though the crown is hereditary in the family of the present sovereign, it is at the present time subject to the authority of parliament—that is to say, of the sovereign, the lords and the commons, acting together as a supreme legislature. From the earliest times in the history of England we see the evidences of the supreme authority of the English national council in their assertion of the right to limit and regulate the accession to the throne in a national emergency.

The great council of early English days, the Witeagemot or assembly of the wise men—Witan meaning wise men, and gemot, an assembly—elected the king, who was the chief among the nobles of the land—the choice falling as a rule on a member of the family of the deceased sovereign.

Even William, of Normandy, the conqueror of England, felt it necessary to give some show of title to his claim to the throne by being chosen by a national council he called together.

In later times kings were deposed and chosen by the will of similar councils of the kingdom. The revolution of 1688, which deposed James II for his violation of the recognized or fundamental laws and rights of the people of England, and placed William and Mary of Orange on the throne, was the last example our history gives us of the national council asserting its right to regulate the succession to the crown.

Every sovereign, at his or her coronation, solemnly promises and swears "to govern the people of this kingdom and the dominions thereto belonging according to the statutes in parliament agreed on, and the respective laws and customs of the same."

As the king is by law the head of the executive power, all acts of government must be carried out in his name. It is by him that parliament is called together for the despatch of business, or is prorogued—that is, a session closed—is dissolved—that is, ending the life of the then house of commons, after which, a new house of commons will have to be elected before parliament can meet again.

The king is the 'fountain of justice' since he is represented in his courts by his judges; he alone can confer titles, distinctions and honors, and if alone can pardon offenders against the law.

All these and other prerogatives—that is to say, the ancient rights and privileges belonging to the sovereign as head of the kingdom—are not now immediately exercised by himself. In person on his own responsibility, but only on the advice of his council.

Every one has heard he maxim: "The King can do no wrong"—the true explanation of which is, that if any act of the government is wrong, the council which advised the act is responsible and not the sovereign.

ORIGIN OF THE CABINET OR ROYAL ADVISORY COUNCIL

In the early times of our history—for England's history is Canada's too—the sovereign always had his council to advise him. He had the great officers of his court always at hand, such as the chief justice, an officer who came next to the king in rank, and whose powers were so great in later days the office was abolished: the chancellor, the treasurer, the lord steward, the chamberlain, the earl marshal, the constable and the two archbishops, and such other officers as the king might from time to time to time appoint.

In addition to this, the king was accustomed at great occasions, and generally at the great festivals of Christmas, Easter and Whitelands, to call together, all the great men of his kingdom, both ecclesiastic and lay, to discuss affairs of state.

These councils exercised executive, legislative and judicial powers, but as business and population increased, it became necessary to divide the work, up, and some of the members attended to one class of work and some to another, and so out of the council of officers which was always in attendance on the king, there developed the privy council, appointed and presided over by the king, which attended to the executive work, that is, which has reserved to this day part of its judicial powers in the jurisdiction of the judicial committee of the privy council, which is the final court of appeal in colonial cases, and in prize and ecclesiastic cases, the court of chancery, and the superior courts of common law, and the court of the lord chancellor and the judges. While the periodical great councils developed to parliament, which does the legislative work and imposes or authorizes the taxes.

In the principal common law court, the court of king's bench, the title of the court was, until recent changes and reforms, 'coram ipse regre'—in the presence of the king himself—a curious relic of the time when the king actually presided there.

The privy council became at last too large for purposes of consultation and King Charles I. selected from its members a committee who were named a cabinet council because they met in the king's private chamber. (A private room for consultation was formerly called a 'cabinet').

This smaller cabinet had no special authority behind the privy council as a body was alone recognized by the law as the responsible executive council—but King Charles I. found it more convenient for his purposes in times when he was intruding against parliament. In the quarrels of the Stuarts with the commons, they were content with assuming prerogatives in violation of the acknowledged rights of the people, and this council became very unpopular as the secret conclave, for the king and his instruments. It owed no responsibility to any one but the king himself, and it was not necessary that its members should have the support of the house of commons.

The practice of forming a committee-councillors as a special or inner body out of the large body of privy of advisers of the crown has continued to the present time, but the modern cabinet council is not the irresponsible instrument of the royal will and pleasure that it was in the days of the Stuarts.

Since the revolution of 1688, where James II was deposed, there has gradually developed the principle that the cabinet must be composed of privy councillors not only chosen by and responsible to the sovereign, but selected from those men who have seats in parliament, and have the confidence of the majority of the people's representatives in the house of commons, the elected body of the great legislative council of the nation.

As long as they keep the confidence of this house they remain as counsellors or ministers of the king, and are responsible for the work of administration and legislation, but the moment they lose that confidence the sovereign must choose another set of advisers or ministers, who must have the support of the popular house.

Sometimes a ministry, defeated in parliament, will be allowed to ask for the support of the people at a general election. If they are supported at the polls and have a majority of the people's representatives, they remain in office. Otherwise they must give way to men who have obtained the popular majority.

Elsewhere, when I come to speak of the Canadian methods of government which are copied from those of England, I shall explain how the prime minister, or head of the cabinet or ministry, and the members of that body are chosen.
